FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

NBMBAA Philadelphia Entrepreneur Summit at Drexel University

June 20, 2016 from NBMBAA-Philly.org

Philadelphia, PA, June 20, 2016 — The Philadelphia Chapter of the National Black MBA Association (NBMBAA) will host its 2016 Entrepreneur Summit on Saturday, July 9th from 10:00 a.m. until 4:00 p.m. at Drexel University in Philadelphia, PA. A BBQ roundtable discussion lunch is included in the registration.

Purchase your tickets for the event at on their website: www.nmbaa-philly.org or on ticket leap at <https://nmbaa-phillychapter40years.ticketleap.com/entrepreneur-summit-2016/>

The Summit is an educational and informative event on how entrepreneurs can create sustainable growth and longevity for their businesses. During this event, attendees will be able to hear and learn from local business owners about their successes and growth opportunities as well as understand how to effectively market their products and services and grow their businesses.

There will also be free business plan reviews by The Business Center for Entrepreneurship (TBC). In addition, opportunities for approval for $10,000 in loans on the spot by West Philadelphia Financial Services Institute (WPFISI) will be available.

We encourage local entrepreneurs and small business employees, business professionals, as well as graduate and undergraduates students to attend. Drexel University students are allowed to attend for free. Registration required. Refreshments will be provided for our guests.

Sponsorships and Vendor Booths are available. Please email at info@nmbaa-philly.org for additional information.
